MITCHELL IS ALLOWED HALF OF HIS SALARY

Former Colonel in Army Air Service Begins Sentence of Suspension

AIR ACE IS SILENT

Reid Criticizes "Unseemly Haste" of President Coolidge's Action

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Stripped of his rank as colonel in the army air service, William Mitchell Tuesday began serving his sentence of suspension from the army for five years. Contrary, however, to the decision of the court martial which convicted him under the 96th article of war of insubordination in connections with his determined fight for a unified air service, Mitchell will receive half pay and certain living allowances during the suspension.

President Coolidge, in affirming the court's verdict, stipulated Monday that the sentence will be executed as ordered except as to the provision depriving the former colonel of all pay and allowances. Under the president's decision Mitchell will receive $397.67 monthly, during the pleasure of the president.

Mitchell has met the new situation thus far without comment. His counsel, representative Reid, Republican, Illinois, however, in a statement, declared "they have finally got Colonel Mitchell."

REID SCORNS PRESIDENT

Mr. Reid criticized the "unseemly haste" of the president's action and he declared "this whole proceeding from start to finish shows that an invisible mind and hand have labored without ceasing for this day's verdict."

With the president decision viewed as closing the official phase of the case, it is likely that it will provide new material for discussion in congress, where the former colonel has many friends.

Secretary Davis and the president were moved to return Mitchell on the payroll, because "there are certain statutory restrictions on the activities of army officers by which the accused may be hampered in securing employment to provide support for himself and those dependent upon him."

While Mitchell will receive his allowances and half pay "during the pleasure of the president," it will be possible during the five years to revoke that modification at any time without further court action.

COOLIDGE REVIEWS TRIAL

In his statement President Coolidge reviewed briefly the causes and course of the trial, declaring Mitchell has "characterized the administration of the war and navy departments 'as incompetent, criminally negligent and most unreasonable'" and that the board of review finds that those statements were made without basis in fact.

The effect of the sentence, Representative Reid declared, is that for five years "the nation will be without its foremost champion of an adequate national defense."

He was president of a commission to erect a monument to Wisconsin soldiers dead at Moretta, Ga. He was junior vice commander of post number 1, Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE DOCTOR TAKES POISON, DIES

Milwaukee—(AP)—Dr. William C. Karzke, 45 years old, was found dead in his office Monday night by Henry Ross, his brother-in-law. Examination of the body indicated Dr. Karzke had died of self-administered poison. He had locked and braced all the doors to his office with chairs, to make entry more difficult. His family could assign no reason for his act.

WILL STRIVE FOR PEACE AT COAL PARLEY

Third Conference of Miners and Operators Called Tuesday Afternoon

Philadelphia, Pa.—(AP)—In another effort to settle the anthracite strike a conference of operators and miners was called to meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, at whose request the call was issued, said Monday night that if the operator's spokesmen would waive their insistence on arbitration of wages the strike would end 20 minutes after the meet opened. It is the third attempt by the two groups to adjust their differences.

"A new pressure of public opinion, exerted within the last 48 hours, I am certain," said Mr. Lewis, "will have clarified the atmosphere for our negotiations and I will be surprised if a changed spirit does not prevail in the joint conference."

Others did not share the optimism of the miners leader.

The operators made it plain before giving their assent to a resumption of negotiations that the peace plan of E. J. Lynett, Scranton publisher, was not acceptable to them. This plan, accepted in principle by the mine workers on a basis for negotiations, apparently was the only one ready for presentation to the joint meeting.

The operator's chief objections to the Lynett proposals, which provide for the immediate resumption of work at the old wage scale, are that the same wages continue in effect indefinitely unless the miners agree to change them.

WOMEN BANK ROBBERS GO ON TRIAL TUESDAY

Sioux Falls, S. D.—(AP)—South Dakota's self-confessed woman bank robbers—Mrs. Catherine Rogers and her 19-year-old daughter, Zera—went on trial here Tuesday.

Counsel for the woman has announced that the defense will attempt to prove that Mrs. Rogers and Zera are insane and were so at the time of the alleged crime. The defense has summoned a number of Sioux Falls medical men to testify on this point.

The Rogers women held up the First State bank of Renner, at Renner, S. D., near here last November, when they obtained some $300. Suspicion was directed toward them when they had a large number of pennies converted into money of larger denominations.

FORMER GOVERNMENT AGENT ARRESTED AGAIN

Chicago—(AP)—Martin P. Nichols, former agent of the naturalization bureau, released from Leavenworth prison less than a year ago, was arrested here Monday on a federal warrant charging him with impersonating a government officer and passing bad checks, the same offense for which he already has served a prison term. He is said to have operated in small towns of Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois and posing as a naturalization officer and holding "classes" in these towns. At the end of the classes he asked some of his students to identify him to cash a check.

BODY HACKER CONFESSES TO KILLING GIRL

Tells Police She Threatened to Tell His Wife of Their Relations

Philadelphia, Pa.—(AP)—Having confessed he strangled and dismembered Miss Anna May Dietrich, David L. Marshall, chiropractor, was being held without bail Tuesday.

Marshall, married and the father of a 12-year-old daughter, made a second confession Monday night in which he admitted strangling the woman, whose "cabaret complex," he said, was proving a financial strain upon him. Miss Dietrich, a 34-year-old milliner, had ambitions to be a "modern girl."

Early Monday having readily told of his acquaintance with Miss Dietrich and of having treated her professionally, Marshall confessed that he had cut up the body but steadfastly denied that he had killed her.

The first confession, however, did not satisfy authorities, particularly that part wherein he said the woman had drunk poison because a wealthy New Yorker with whom she was in love had jilted her. After much more questioning he suddenly shouted late Monday night:

"I'm lying! It's all lies. I'll tell the truth now!"

Then he said he had strangled Miss Dietrich because she had threatened to inform his wife of their relations unless he gave her more money.

"I knew Miss Dietrich for eight years," he said. "At first she thought I was single."

"Recently she got a 'cabaret complex.' She wanted to go out skylarking at nights. She began taking lessons in the Charleston."

"I told her I could not go with her—I was afraid my wife might find out. Then, too, I began to be afraid of the financial strain. But she insisted that I take her to roadhouses and to cabarets. She threatened to tell my wife about our relations if I didn't take her. She wanted to take a whirl at the night life before she came to a climax. She met at my office. She insisted we go out. I refused. We argued. Again she threatened to tell my wife. I was desperate and in a rage."

"I seized her by the throat to shake her; to make her understand that I couldn't and wouldn't. I pleaded with her to break off our friendship. But she wouldn't listen. 'Then—I don't know what possessed me. The next thing I knew she was dead there before me—on the floor of my office.'"

It was because he did not want to be charged with murder, he said that he dismembered the body and disposed of it by throwing the torso and legs in a field at Media, and hiding the head under a railroad trestle a short distance from his home at Bywood Heights.

"The recent trial and conviction of Col. Wm. Mitchell for violation of the articles of war," Mr. Connolly said, "has raised a very serious question in the minds of a great many as to whether or not the articles of war and court martial procedure in the army and navy are in need of review and revision by congress."

The former air officer is at liberty, however, to give his opinion to congressional committees or civilian bodies at any time during his five year suspension.

The war department has decided not to order him to appear before any committee but Major General Hall, judge advocate general of the army, holds that he may do so as an individual, if he desires.

Mr. Reed's charge of "unseemly haste" was answered at the white house Tuesday by the statement that President Coolidge had answered only after several days of conference with Secretary Davis of the war department.

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The construction of a hydro-electric power plant at Keshena Falls on the Menominee Indian reservation in Wisconsin was proposed in a bill Monday by Representative Edward E. Browne, Republican, Wisconsin.

The measure would empower the secretary of the interior to operate water power units for the benefit of the Indians, selling the surplus power to the highest private bidder, subject to the approval by a tribal business committee.

The proceeds would be deposited to the credit of the Indians.

America Will, Yet Won't Take Part In World Court

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1926, by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington—America will be in the world court and yet will not be unless she chooses to be. That's the paradox which comes out of the compromise reservation which is to be attached to the world court protocol, and were it not for the fact that this is a fight against the League of Nations primarily and the world court incidentally, it would remove the last particle of opposition to American adherence to the international court of justice.

Senator Swanson of Virginia, Democrat, has had the compromise reservation to his sleeve many months. He made no secret of it, however. This correspondent disclosed its purport a few weeks ago and the Virginia senator dwelt upon it in his opening speech. It provides that every time the United States is ready to use the world court for the submission of any dispute, the senate shall give its permission by the usual two-thirds vote.

So America can never, for all practical purposes, be a member of the world court unless the senate specifically agrees. If the alignment in the senate happens to be unfriendly to the submission of a dispute, America will not use the court and vice versa.

Mr. Swanson offered his reservation for the simple reason that he knew very well America could not submit a question to arbitration of any court of justice anyhow unless the senate agreed by a two-thirds vote. Whenever the United States has a controversy with another nation and cannot settle it by the usual processes of diplomacy, it is customary for both nations to agree by treaty or convention to solve the problem some other way. That's what is called a protocol of submission. If both parties agree to submit a matter to a certain tribunal, it requires an agreement to the effect that they will each abide by the verdict. The United States government so far as agreements with foreign powers are concerned, comprises both the president and the United States senate. The chief executive cannot bind the United States to agree to the verdict of any arbitration, or any tribunal's decision unless the senate agrees too. It takes a two-thirds vote in every case to make an international agreement valid.

IS CONSTITUTIONAL PRACTICE
So Senator Swanson has really put in reservation form something that is nothing more than constitutional practice anyhow. In the face of these facts, and also considering that the pro-court forces are willing to agree to a reservation permitting the United States to withdraw from membership in the court at any time, it will be asked why the anti-court forces still keep up their opposition. The answer is that they know at heart the world court protocol is safeguarded as outlined but they are far more interested in the implicit rather than the explicit meaning of America's action in joining the world court. They fear it portends American association with the League of Nations in other things later on.

For the world court is the creature

FAVORS CHANGE IN MILITARY LAW

Representative Connolly of Texas Proposes Bill to Re-vise Courts

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Investigation of the Mitchell court martial case with a view of revising the law concerning military courts, was proposed Tuesday in a resolution by Representative Connolly, Democrat, Texas. The inquiry would be conducted by a special house committee.

"The recent trial and conviction of Col. Wm. CANADA WILL PROTEST BILL ON LAKE DRAIN

Announcement of Action Is Made Monday in House of Commons

Ottawa, Canada—(AP)—Vigorous protest against the United States senate bill providing for further drainage of Lake Michigan by providing a navigable channel in the Illinois and Mississippi rivers will be made by the Canadian government to the United States Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, announced Monday in the house of commons.

As a result of an exchange of notes with the United States, Mr. Stewart said, Canada's attitude towards drainage of the Great Lakes has been made clear. He said the United States government engineers' proposed present flow through the Chicago sanitary canal would be reduced to 6,700 cubic feet per second by 1929 and to 4,167 cubic feet, the amount specified in the original canal permit by 1932.

"This government is fully alive to the menace of the provisions of this bill," said Mr. Stewart. Questioned by opposition members about the permit authorizing the Chicago sanitary canal, Mr. Stewart said this original permit was issued by the United States government. The Canadian government had never admitted the right of the Chicago sanitary district to divert the water from the Great Lakes, he said, and Canada would participate in proceedings pending in the United States Supreme Court whereby certain other states sought to restrain Chicago from taking water from the lakes.

Canada's protest has been just as vigorous as the protests of these states "and just as futile," interjected Arthur Meighen.

Air phenomena which handicapped the international radio test on Sunday night recurred Tuesday through the country, causing havoc with wire communication. While the manifestations were intermittent they were sufficient to disrupt wire communications for short periods virtually in all parts of the country.

THREE SHIPS IN DISTRESS ON ATLANTIC

Heavy Seas Take Three Lives and Delay Progress of Vessels

New York.—(AP) The lives of at least 60 seamen are in jeopardy Tuesday on two steamships battling against one of the worst storms ever encountered in the Atlantic Ocean.

The vessels in distress are the British freighters Antinoe and Laristan with 25 and 35 men aboard and an unidentified ship also reported in trouble in the Panama zone.

New York.—(AP)—Three steamships were in distress Tuesday as the result of a storm out in the Atlantic Ocean. At least 72 lives, including the Levithian and the Aquilina, were battling toward port with nearly 6,000 passengers aboard.

Most of the liners have been delayed from one to three days by the storm which already has taken a toll of three lives and was responsible in part for the sinking of one ship.

The ships in distress were the British freighters Antinoe and Laristan and an unidentified vessel near Panama Canal.

When the liner President Roosevelt launched a life boat to take off the crew of the Antinoe, two sailors of the rescue crew were lost as the life boat was crushed against the Antinoe.

ARGUMENTS IN SENATE HALT EARLY BALLOT

Senator Heflin, Alabama, Occupies Full Hour Allotted Him Under Rules

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—So many senators insisted on talking Tuesday on the world court, as well as other subjects, that pro-leaders gave up hope of reaching a final vote before Wednesday.

After half an hour had been spent in arguing on the order in which resolutions are to be considered, Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, took the floor for the full span of the hour permitted him under the cloture rule adopted Monday.

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Under the tight lid of cloture the senate approached Tuesday the vote which will take the United States into the world court.

HIGHWAY UPKEEP TAKES UP TIME OF ROAD EXPERTS

Concrete Roads Hereafter Will Be 20 Feet Wide, Engineer Says

Madison (AP)—The upkeep of roads was studied Tuesday by highway workers of Wisconsin at the annual Road School of the state highway commission here.

Talks on maintenance and traffic were on the program. The speakers included N. M. Maurer, traffic engineer of the commission, N. M. Isabella, maintenance engineer, T. M. Reynolds, J. C. L. and W. F. Baumgartner, and W. F. Baumgartner, maintenance engineer, D. F. Culbertson, and William Hoenig, assistant division engineer, also gave talks.

The award of a cup to the county highway organization judged to have made the greatest advance in maintenance and highway service in 1925 and certificates to the counties judged to have made the greatest advance in each of the nine divisions of the state was scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. E. F. Bean, state geologist, will speak Tuesday night on practical geology as applied to highway work. Afterward, the question whether motor grader patrol equipment is preferable to horse-drawn equipment for maintenance purposes will be debated. J. T. Donaghey, state highway engineer, told at the opening session of advances made along construction lines in 1925.

The state trunk highways have been classified into commercial, farm to market and tourist roads, he said. "We have decided that where traffic warrants a concrete road, the concrete surface should not be less than 20 feet in width," he said.

CHILDREN HURT IN CAR CRASH

Appleton Family Severely Shaken Up When Car Hits Stalled Truck on Road

Duane Sager, 11 months old son of Frade Sager was bruised and cut when his father's car crashed into the rear of a truck parked on Highway 13 near Outagamie-co asylum about 7:30 Sunday evening. It was said the truck had no lights. Other occupants of the car were Mrs. Sager who was holding the baby, and three Sager children, Melva, Lucille and Wilbur who were in the back seat. Mrs. Sager suffered slight cuts and bruises and Melva was injured about her head.

The truck was left on the highway by Martin Alberts of Menasha after it was stalled in the afternoon. The front of the machine was well off the road but the rear extended a considerable distance over the concrete. Alberts who was found in a nearby farmhouse, said he had obtained help from a garage to tow his car back to Menasha, but that the wrecking crew had not arrived and he had forgotten to turn on the lights when evening came.

Tracy was knocked to the pavement by the Bestler car and suffered a fractured skull. He died at St. Elizabeth hospital early Monday morning.

Bestler told Mr. Lonsdorf that he was going south on S. Oneida st. and had crossed the bridge and was turning up the E. South River st. when Tracy stepped in front of his car. Tracy also was going south on S. Oneida st. and was about to cross the E. South River st. intersection. Because he was making the turn his car was going only between 10 and 15 miles an hour. Bestler said Tracy was said to have stepped in front of the car and then shifted back and forth, undecided which way to turn. Bestler tried desperately to turn out for the aged man but Tracy's indecision made it impossible to miss him and he was struck with the left front fender and sent spinning to the pavement. Bestler stopped immediately and conveyed the injured man to St. Elizabeth hospital.

RAINBOW CLOSES UP WITH FINAL DANCE FOR YEAR

Long Period of Idleness Follows Federal Court Padlock Proceedings

After holding one of the largest crowds of the present winter season on Sunday night the dance floor of Rainbow Gardens is deserted to remain so for more than a year.

The resort was closed by G. H. Horst, proprietor for one year in order to avoid compulsory closing under the padlock proceedings begun by federal prohibition forces. It will be closed a few months additional on account of the dull season in lent and will open probably on Easter in 1927.

Mr. Horst decided not to fight the padlock proceedings as he declined that it was practically impossible to keep out 'hippers'. He says the establishment is not padlocked and has not received no notice of such action. He has had several business offers but has not made definite plans for the future.

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Cloudy and unsettled tonight, probably snow in extreme northeast portion; much colder tonight, and in extreme east portion Wednesday. Cold wave in north portion with zero temperatures.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
A low pressure area now overlies the Lake Superior region and upper Mississippi valley, attended by light snow over much of the northern states, and by moderate temperatures on the south and east. High pressure is appearing over Manitoba and Saskatchewan, in the rear of the storm, accompanied by a fall in temperature. The continued advance of these weather controls favors a decided fall in temperature in this section again tonight and Wednesday, with mostly cloudy and unsettled weather clearing slowly. The weather is mostly fair over the west and south portions of the country.

SPINSTERHOOD

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BARBARA HAWLEY, 25, breaks with her fiancé, BRUCE REYNOLDS, and gets a job on the Appleton Telegraph, in order to see life.

ANDREW McDERMOTT, the managing editor, is a former friend of her father. BOB JEFFRIES, police reporter, proves friendly.

Barbara attends a newspaper dinner at the Lighthouse Inn with SINBAD SULLIVAN, a press agent. There she meets JEROME BALL, a man about town.

The sound of a shot comes from an inner room in the road-house.

NORMAN HOLLOWELL, a prominent broker, is found dead in the room. A suicide note is found in his pocket, but Barbara finds a woman's scarf under the table.

She is sent to interview MRS. LYDIA STACY, a prominent society woman, on a real estate project by Bruce's firm.

While there Mrs. Stacy's maid reveals having seen a dress to the cleaners to have a wine stain removed. Barbara connects the wine-stained dress with the road-house shooting of Hollowell.

She seals the tell-tale scarf in an envelope and hides it in her desk. That night she has dinner with Jerome Ball, and rebuffs his advances.

Barbara and Bob enjoy reading letters addressed to the love-column by a girl who has a beer-stained kimono, straight eyelashes and unrequited love for a certain young man.

Later Bob escorts her to a reception given by Mrs. Stacy for a foreign architect. Barbara finds Bruce is the guest of honor.

SOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

The dance music went on, upstairs. It emphasized the stiffness in the conservatory. Barbara neither spoke or moved. Bob glanced at the clock. Presently he walked across the room to the door and opened it. The call of the saxophones sounded louder. To cast a short glance at Barbara. "We're wasting a lot of good dance music, Bab," he said, almost timidly. "That's a peach of a muted violin." He began to move his shoulders to the rhythm of the music and to him soft.

Barbara turned toward him suddenly. "I'm sorry, Bob, but I can't dance tonight. I don't know what's the matter with me—with the world—but I'd like to run away to some corner and cry forever and ever. Life's all out of joint for me, and I guess I'll never be any better. But I'm sorry I'm spoiling your evening."

Bob came toward her. "That's all right, old kid. You're tired out, aren't you? And I guess the newspaper game's getting you, as it gets all women. You've got to pull up or you'll be nothing but a bundle of nerves."

Someone entered the room. They turned and found a butler facing them. "Telephone for Mr. Robert Jeffries. I'll show you the way, sir." Bob followed him out of the conservatory, pausing to smile encouragingly at Barbara. "Back in a moment, Bab," he said.

Barbara sat down again by the piano. Her head went down on her arm, as it lay against the back of a chair, and her body began to quiver with long sobs. She cried silently, without tears.

Some time later the door opened again. Someone entered and coughed. Barbara flung back her head. It was the butler again. "Mr. Jeffries was called away on assignment," he said. "He asked me to tell you that he would send a taxi back for you when he reached home."

Barbara nodded her head and the man disappeared. She rose and asked around. A little gold clock on the table pointed to ten-thirty. The saxophones were howling still more furiously, and the subdued hum of many voices sounded down distant corridors.

Barbara stood up and smoothed the rumpled taffeta dress. She went out the conservatory and along the deserted hall to a back staircase that looked as if it might lead to the ballroom above.

Half way up the stairs she saw a man at the head of the flight. She turned, as if to run back down again, but he had seen her and was hastening toward her.

"Barbara," he said. The girl turned her head away. Her cheeks were as white as paper.

"Barbara," he said again, more anxiously. She choked. "Don't speak to me. There's nothing between you and me ever again, and I don't want to talk to you." Her eyes sought the door. She turned back toward the door of the stairs and took a step down. Bruce put his hand on her arm.

"Oh, Mr. Reynolds." The voice came from above. Barbara jerked away from him and ran down the stairs. It was Lydia's voice.

Mrs. Stacy appeared at the head of the stairs. "There you are, Bruce," she called gayly. "I have been looking everywhere for you. Gignell is out to talk. I asked him to tell me something about a civic commission in respect to art and architecture. He has been saying the most amusing things about some of the monstrosities he has seen in Appleton. Come along."

She tripped down the steps to him, her black spangles twinkling in the shadows of the hall. She took one white hand on his arm and led up at him. "Are you having good time at my party, Bruce? I know it's really for you that I asked him to talk. I asked him to tell me something about a civic commission in respect to art and architecture. He has been saying the most amusing things about some of the monstrosities he has seen in Appleton. Come along."

Barbara returned with the word that the car was waiting for them. She took Barbara's arm and Lydia's. Together the three walked toward the porte cochere.

"Do you know," said Lydia, as they walked, "we three hold great powers in our hands. Here we are, you, Bruce, with your genius, I with my money, and Miss Hawley with her newspaper behind her—what couldn't we do for anything we set our minds on?"

"I shall send a statement to the Telegraph tomorrow morning, Miss Hawley," said Lydia, "regarding the matter of the car."

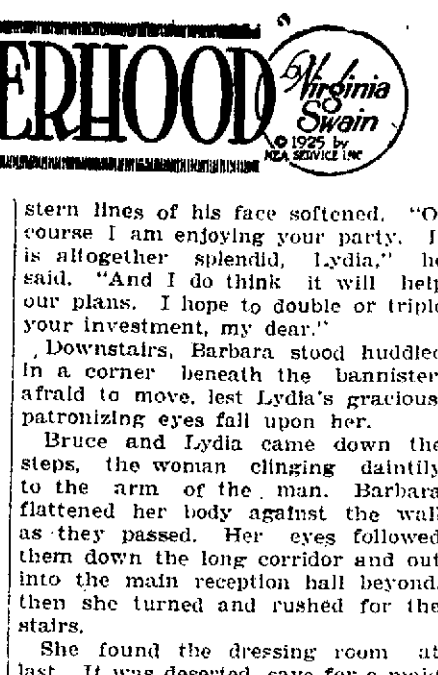

Barbara looked down at her. The stern lines of his face softened. "Of course I am enjoying your party. It is altogether splendid. Lydia," he said. "And I do think it will help our plans. I hope to double or triple your investment, my dear."

Downstairs, Barbara stood huddled in a corner beneath the banister, afraid to move. Just Lydia's gracious, patronizing eyes fall upon her.

Bruce and Lydia came down the steps, the woman clinging daintily to the arm of the man. Barbara flattened her body against the wall as they passed. Her eyes followed them down the long corridor and out into the main reception hall beyond, then she turned and rushed for the stairs.

She found the dressing room at last. It was deserted, save for a maid who drowsed in a great armchair near the window.

Barbara looked around for her wrap. The maid stirred and sat up. "Can I do anything for you, miss?" Barbara saw that it was the same woman who had had the altercation with Mrs. Stacy on the day of the interview.

High School Band Equipped To Play High Class Music

The appearance of the Appleton High school band on the program for the series of concerts given in Junior High school auditoriums on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings assures music by a competent and well developed organization. Band practice is held for 40 minutes at the high school every day and each of the 38 members takes pride in putting on a finished professional performance. If the calls for its service are a criteria of its efficiency as an organization the band has passed the raw amateur stage, according to Carl McKee, director.

The concerts are given for the benefit of the band and of the bugle and drum corps of the junior high schools. The Lions club is sponsoring the entertainment, and is helping the students to sell tickets, as well as paying for all expenses including advertising.

Glee clubs, dramatic clubs, physical education classes, and bugle and drum corps of the Junior High schools will take part in the program, as well as the Appleton High school band and orchestra. The Wilson school will hold its concert on Tuesday evening. The Roosevelt, Wednesday; and the McKinley on Thursday evening.

Voice work is being stressed in the junior high schools this year according to Miss Irene Bidwell, assistant music supervisor of the city schools and director of music in the junior high schools. Chorus rehearsal is compulsory under the present program, which means that each girl is given the opportunity to sing three times a week. All voices are tested twice a year, and parts are assigned according to the range of the girl's voice.

Apart from the social opportunities offered to the boy or girl in playing an instrument, there are physical and mental developments, it was pointed out by Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools. In playing a wind instrument the lungs are developed and perfect control of the breathing apparatus is necessary. With the shorter working day for the majority of people there comes the question of what to do with the leisure hours. It is during the time when a boy or girl is in school that habits of recreation are formed and if the child learns to play Hawley, telling of my entrance into the Vale Acres project—with money and with moral support. Will you ask your managing editor to call me?" She laid a hand on Bruce's arm in farewell.

"Hurry back, Bruce, dear," she said.

The door closed behind them shutting off the pathway of light on the steps. The housewife waited. In a flurry of shining black and nickel, a liveried driver held the tonneau door open.

Bruce helped her into the car and stepped in after her.

FIX DATES FOR CONVENTION OF STATE LEGION

Appleton Men Have Prominent Part in Meeting of Post Officers

L. Hugo Keller, past state commander of the American Legion was one of the principal speakers at the state convention of post commanders and post adjutants Friday and Saturday at Oshkosh. He spoke Friday morning and at the convention banquet Friday evening. In his first talk he urged Legionnaires to do their own thinking, and not be led blindly by any faction in which the leaders do all the thinking and make all the decisions for their followers. At the banquet he responded briefly to a toast. Appleton Legionnaires who attended the convention were Joseph Witmer, post adjutant; Harvey Priebe, chairman of the welfare committee; H. J.

Pettigrew, chairman of the county council; Erik Madsen, editor of the Badger Legionnaire; and L. Hugo Keller, past state commander.

FIX CONVENTION DATE

It was decided to hold the next state Legion convention on Aug. 27 and 28 in LaCrosse. The convention usually is a three day session, but it was thought that if held on week end days the attendance would be larger.

It was decided to have all posts and auxiliaries buy their Memorial Day poppies from the state auxiliary department. These poppies are made by disabled war veterans in the government hospitals in Milwaukee and Madison.

All county councils were asked to make a survey to put the endowment fund program into operation. Most of the counties have raised their quotas in the nationwide endowment drive. War orphans and dependent children will be found and placed in homes, and children of Legionnaires who are sick or out of work will be cared for temporarily with the funds from the drive.

Colonel Charles M. Pearsall, head of the soldiers home in Milwaukee announced that any sick or disabled war veteran may go to the home and receive treatment free at the soldiers hospital connected with the institution. All that is required for admission is the presentation of an honorable discharge. Another of the main program speakers was John M. Corby, chairman of the national welfare committee.

Squeezing out blackheads makes large, ugly pores. The safe and sane way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Calomite powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one, big or little, will disappear at once.

SMITH DRILLING HIS CAGE TEAM TO RING UP BASKETS

Failure to Score Consistently
Last Week Brings on Strenuous Practice

Kaukauna—Inability to hit the hoop during the final half of the Clintonville basketball game here Friday evening after playing the first period at their usual clip, caused Coach Tim Smith's Kaukauna high school basketball team to spend plenty of time Monday afternoon in an intensive shooting drill. The Tigers failed to show their usual form in the final period and after taking an easy lead allowed Clintonville to clean up with six points of a win. After a short talk the Electric City boys went at the basket hard, driving in from all angles and trying plenty of follow shots. This was followed by a hard scrimmage.

Coach Smith is preparing his men for a hard series of away from home games, but he has two weeks to do it in as he had an open date Friday night. After this comes four hard games on foreign courts ending with a game against Oshkosh high, a valley conference school, at Oshkosh. It is an endeavor to break up his rest period of two weeks. Coach Smith is endeavoring to card a game with Appleton high at Appleton next Tuesday evening, giving him two out of town games in a week if it goes through. Farwell, a guard, showed the best stuff against Clintonville, dribbling through a tight defense to score shots after his mates had failed to come through. With only a few capable subs, Tiger Bill is drilling his first six hard for future games and is hoping for the breaks as far as injuries are concerned. He is working McCorrie and McFadden or Welch at forwards, Boyd at center and Capt. Gonyo and Farwell at guards.

PLYMOUTH TRIMS PLYWOOD IN 2ND HALF COMEBACK

Home Team Leads at End of First and Second Periods of Fast Basketball Game

New London—The Plymouth five lost to the Plymouth city basketball team in Knights of Columbus hall on Monday evening by the score of 29 to 13, in one of the fastest professional basketball contests seen here in years.

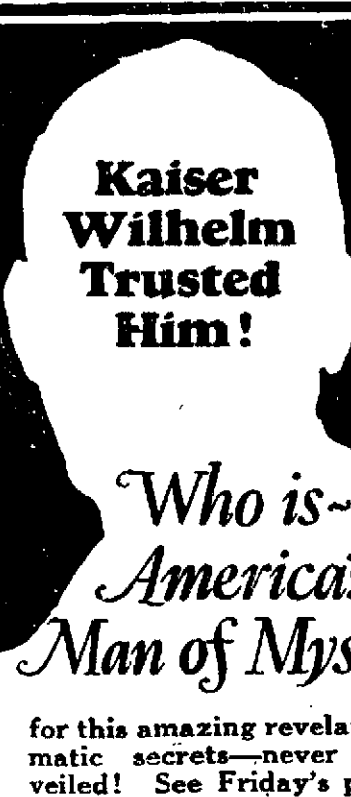

The game during the first half was a nip and tuck affair, neither team being able to gain much of a lead. Plymouth failed to show an exceptional burst of speed until after the whistle for the second half had blown, but the second half was a slaughter. The score at the end of the first period was 3 to 2 for New London, the Plywood five remaining in the lead by 8 to 7 at the end of the half. The third quarter ended 19 to 10 for Plymouth.

The lineup for the affair were Parker, Wahl, Pope, Abendroth, Algiers, Huntley and Rempel for New London, and Elliot, Brickheimer, Berth and the two Scheels for Plymouth. Elliot, former Edison star of this city, was the outstanding player of the evening, traveling over the floor like greased lightning. Rempel, at guard for the Plywood, also proved himself to be a player of no means ability, and starred for the home team. Scoring for New London was done as follows: Abendroth 5, Wahl 6, Pope 2.

The Plywood will travel to Oconto on Friday evening of this week where they will meet the Oconto league, one of the fastest professional teams in the state. The Oconto team will play here on Feb. 2.

The preliminary to the game on Monday night was played between the Tigers, a team of local young men, and the O. K. Taxis of Appleton, and resulted in a win for the Appleton quintet, 16 to 15.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy, stomach, and relief will come instantly.
For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drug store.

"Keep the Lines Open"

A BIG, gray truck rumbles down the highway! A Emergency apparatus! Ladders, poles, shovels, wire, crossarms, brackets—and a crew of stalwart "trouble shooters" ready to repair breaks caused by sleet or snow, wind, flood or fire!

"Keep the lines open" is the creed of the telephone repairmen—and they live up to it, often in the face of severe hardships and at great personal sacrifice.

Probably you've seen them at work in your neighborhood and along the highways leading into town. These men are serving you just as faithfully as other telephone folks—though you may know less about their actual duties.

Public servants, they are—men whose job it is to keep your lines open so that you may "talk" to anyone anywhere at will—and so that others may talk with you.

ONEIDA SCHOOL WILL NOT HIRE SECOND TEACHER

Silvery Summit District Holds
Special Meeting, Tables
Two-room Plan

Oneida—A special meeting of the electors in school district No. 4, was called Tuesday afternoon at Silvery Summit school. William Herr was elected chairman of the meeting.

The clerk, Edgar Skendore read a letter from A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, explaining the purpose of the meeting which was a report sent him that 67 pupils were enrolled and that another teacher must be engaged, according to law. The record was checked and it was found that 10 names were still on the roll that did not belong there, leaving 57 pupils enrolled. The teacher, Miss Louise Baitman, admitted the roll was correct as read.

The Rev. A. A. Vissers then made a motion that when 60 are enrolled for 20 days, as the law requires, the school board engage another teacher and borrow money for her salary. The motion was carried by a large majority. The eight who had signed a petition that William Herr, the director of the school board resign, withdrew their petition. Exactly 53 voters were present.

The schools are all crowded in Oneida but knowing that a large Catholic school is being built which will take 100 or more children, the districts have not made their schools larger and are waiting for the new school to open, which may be next fall. The town now has six district schools, four joint district schools. Two Catholic schools, one Lutheran, one Adventist and one Episcopal school.

The Cooperative cheese factory patrons met Friday evening, Jan. 15, and elected the following officers: President, Herman Stevens; vice president, Henry Goffard; secretary, John Roels; treasurer, Al Ambrosius; director, Joel Conrad, Horace Melony is the cheese maker.

Mrs. F. Hughes and daughter, Mary Louise, of Columbus, Ohio, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Henry Goffard.

into accord. For there you will see the irresistibly funny Leon Errol and Dorothy Gish in a pirate comedy, "Clothes Make the Pirate," that is glistening with delightful humor and satire.

Errol, who was very funny, as fans will remember, in "Sally," is doubly laughable in "Clothes Make the Pirate," which Sam E. Rork has produced for First National release. For this appearance Errol is the star with Dorothy Gish and has full reign for his inimitable antics.

Comedy seems to be far in the lead for popular favor this year, and in this film the producer, Sam E. Rork, has a bet which gives place to none in the claim for top honors. It comes to the screen hailed by authorities as one of the big specials of the year and it fulfills expectations.

ABOUNDS IN COMEDY

Not only does it abound in comedy and rare satire, but the production has been given a lavish, colorful dressing, and the dramatic element is vitalized by an attack by a pirate ship on a British war sloop which develops into one of the finest naval conflicts the screen has seen. The sea battle is as exciting of its type as the hand-to-hand clash in "The Sea Hawk."

The story lends itself to character types, and an all-star supporting cast was chosen with this in view. Exceptional performances are given by the two pirate wags, Tully Marshall and George Marion of "Anna Christie" fame.

Dorothy Gish, as the nagging wife of Errol, has the type of role at which she is unmatched and gives a portrayal that is priceless. Nita Naldi, as an aristocratic lady, and James Rennie, New York's popular stage leading man, are more than excellent, while little Edna Murphy lends charm as a sedate New England lass.

"THE VANISHING AMERICAN"

"The Vanishing American," Zane Grey's latest and greatest story to be screened by Paramount, overshadows any similar exposition ever written and establishes a new high mark in motion picture production. It is a gaudy in spirit and presentation.

The picture, which is the feature at the Fischers Appleton Theatre this week, presents one of the biggest and most vital themes concerned with the history and civilization of the United States. It holds a deep element of tragedy from the Indian viewpoint, showing him dispossessed gradually of his lands and shorn of his power by the white man's progress.

To build up the tremendous theme we are carried back to prehistoric times in spectacular scenes that are absorbingly interesting, showing how the Indians overcame the cliff-dwellers and how, in turn, the coming of the Spaniards foretold the passing of the Indian.

Two years of preparation were put into this picture by the company that has given the picture-going public such productions as "The Ten Commandments," "The Covered Wagon" and "Peter Pan."

Richard Dix, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Malcolm McGregor are featured in the leading roles of the production.

In brief, the story is one of Dix, a Navajo Indian youth, educated among the white people, who is confronted with the barrier of race when he falls in love with a lovely white girl. Returning with a detachment of Indian soldiers from the war front of Europe, he finds his tribesmen in a rebellion that threatens to become grave—a rebellion against the oppressions to which they are subjected. How he averts disaster to his people and works out his own destiny in service to his race against the conflict of his love for the American girl is a motif of stirring nobility. The scope of the story is tremendous, harking from the primitive days up to the present when the race, segregated to reservations, is dwindling—thwarted aborigines who cannot cope with the might of the mechanical era wrought by the white civilization.

Three tribes of Navajo Indians and a part of the United States Army take part in the making of the gigantic epic.

tion, "Souls for Sables," suggested from "Garlan & Co." by David Graham Phillips, shown for the first time yesterday at the New Bijou theater, as excellent entertainment.

The story describes the psychology of the mind of a woman, who, reared in the lap of luxury, cannot do without the gorgeous apparel she was accustomed to before her marriage.

The plot revolves about a sable coat which is coveted by the heroine, whose husband is unable to supply her with that expensive luxury. Determined to get the sables, Alice Garlan, portrayed by the beautiful Claire Windsor, finds a way through the helpful advice of a rich man.

Complications follow the finding of the sable coat by the husband.

Miss Windsor and Eugene O'Brien are both excellent. A word of commendation must be said for Anders Randolph, who plays the rich rascal; Claire Adams, as the sweet secretary to the suffering husband; Eileen Percy, as the petted society matron, and George Pawcett, as the rich factory owner.

TRY TO CHECK PROPAGANDA OF R. O. T. C. FOES

Keicher Attends Meeting,
Planning to Put True Light
on Citizens Training Camps

Plans for meeting the hostile propaganda against the Citizens Military Training camps and the Reserve Officers Training camps were discussed at a meeting of the executive board of the state department of the Reserve Officers Association in Milwaukee Saturday afternoon. P. O. Keicher of Appleton, represented the Fox River Valley chapter at the meeting. He was called to the meeting together with a number of others interested in combating anti-training camp propaganda.

No definite program was adopted, but it was decided to hold another meeting for this purpose in February. It was brought out, however, that the agencies behind the propaganda, are sincere in their efforts but are laboring under a misconception of the purpose of citizens military training.

Military training of large groups far from building up a military caste, is actually demoralizing in its effect, it was pointed out. This cannot be sold as safety of the old form of training smaller groups, like the naval military academy, state militias and army and navy alone. It was said.

VAN DER VRIES TO TALK AT ANNUAL C. C. MEETING

Although there was a small attendance at the business men's meeting addressed by William Butterworth, vice president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and John Van der Vries, manager of the Chicago office in the Conway hotel Friday evening, local chamber of commerce directors considered the talks very instructive as they indicated clearly the close relation of local chambers to the national chamber.

Members of the association also were pleased with the address by Mr. Van der Vries. He has consented to come here for the annual meeting and dinner of the local chamber to be held about the middle of April and he will bring with him Max Faber, Milwaukee, vice president of the Allie Chalmers company who is a director of national chamber. Mr. Van der Vries was the first man to address the Appleton chamber immediately after its organization nearly six years ago.

STUDENTS ENROLLING IN NEW EXTENSION COURSES

These are courses in real estate and in advanced banking. It is expected that the classes will be full, organized within a week. They will be conducted every Friday at different periods of the day.

LOCAL PRIEST USES EXORCISM TO HEAL INSANE

Father Theophilus of St. Joseph Church Alleged to Have Performed Miracle

Milwaukee — A tale of the revival in Milwaukee of the ancient religious rite of exorcism by which a person is freed of the evil spirit through the efforts of a priest, has spread rapidly throughout the city. Local Catholic authorities refuse to discuss the matter until the pope approves the formal report of the alleged miracle as performed by the Rev. Father Theophilus, a Capuchin priest of Appleton, Wis.

In chronological order the details embrace the misfortunes of a 40 year old nurse in a New York hospital who became a maniac following her report to the sister superior of the hospital that an intern was practicing hypnotism on his patients. Immediately upon the dismissal of the intern, an infected finger, suffered by the nurse and previously treated by the intern, withered and became partially paralyzed.

PREVIOUS MIRACLE REPORTED

Father Theophilus, reputed to have performed a miracle upon a Milwaukee man in the Capuchin monastery, here, was approached by the nurse's mother while on a visit to New York. She pleaded that he exercise his powers upon the unfortunate daughter. Unable to perform the ritual unless given sanction by the archbishop of his own diocese, the priest requested that the woman be brought to Milwaukee.

The unfortunate woman was taken into the chapel of St. Joseph's hospital. Following the celebration of mass, the exorcism ritual was begun. In Latin, a language of which the woman was ignorant, the following questions were asked:

"Who are you?"

"Beelzebub," was the reply that issued from the throat of the woman in a deep, masculine tone.

"How is it that you possess this?"

"Because of malediction," came the answer.

"At what time will you leave her?"

"At 2 o'clock."

PLEADS WITH EXORCISERS

In the course of the reading of the exorcism ritual, the woman broke in with the cry, "Send me to some person or place upon earth, but do not send me back to hell."

At 2 o'clock, six hours after the ritual had begun, no change was visible in the woman's actions. Father Justin, a brother monk, then berated the devil with, "You are a maledictive lair, Beelzebub! You have not left this woman, as you promised."

Whereupon the voice answered: "You have absolutely nothing whatever to do with this." Father Justin had not been given leave by the archbishop to take part in the actual ceremony.

At 5:30, however, the woman was seen to relax as if from sheer exhaustion. The questioning was continued. "Do you know where you are?"

said Father Theophilus.

The woman then answered in her natural voice, "I am in church."

Asked if she knew the reason for her presence there, she replied, "I can't remember coming here."

The woman was then taken to her room in the hospital where she is being treated for the injured hand. Hundreds of persons daily are seeking admittance to the hospital but no one is allowed to see the patient.

Father Theophilus was stationed at St. Joseph church here on several occasions and is at present in Appleton. He is noted as a preacher of missions and is considered one of the best speakers in the Capuchin order.

Further consideration was given to the matter of establishing a community union in Appleton to do away with the multiplicity of financial campaigns at a meeting of the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce with representatives of various organizations which might benefit from a community chest in the chamber of commerce offices Monday evening. No definite conclusions were reached but T. E. Orbison, chairman, was authorized to appoint committees to make a more careful study of community unions in other cities and to obtain a list of Appleton organizations that might merge their financial campaigns.

There was some discussion of what organizations would cooperate with the community union to eliminate campaigns but no definite conclusions were reached. The experience of community unions in other cities was considered but the committee did not have sufficient exact data on which to base conclusions.

Aubrey Williams, secretary of the Wisconsin Conference for Social Work, is expected to be in Appleton about Feb. 15 to confer with the committee. Mr. Williams has a vast fund of knowledge concerning community unions and it is believed that with his help a workable plan can be established here if there is sufficient desire for it.

3.1 PER CENT OF COWS REACT IN WEEK'S T. B. TEST

94 CATTLE OF
3,016 TESTED
ARE INFECTED

First Six Days Work Reveals
Tuberculosis in 51 of 170
Herds

The first week's work of the federal-state veterinarians engaged in the countywide test of cattle for tuberculosis, reveals that 3.1 per cent of the cattle reacted to the test.

The percentage of reactors is a little high, but not necessarily alarming, as it is not considered the average for the whole county. The first work is being done in the northern part of the county where the eradication of bovine tuberculosis has not been so active as in some of the southern towns.

Compared with the percentage of reactors in Shawano-co, the foregoing figure is considerably higher. Of the 60,000 head of cattle tested in the northern county, there were only 300 reactors which means about 2.17 per cent.

94 REACTORS

Six days work of testing in Outagamie-co showed 94 reactors of 3,016 animals tested. In all 170 herds were tested, and of this number 51 were infected. The percentage of reactors as forced up by the alarming number of infected cows in one or two herds. In one herd alone there were 17 reactors.

While testing cattle for bovine tuberculosis, the veterinarians also inspected poultry for avian tuberculosis. They inspected 148 flocks containing 10,074 fowls.

The results of each veterinarian or arm of veterinarians are as follows:

Dr. S. D. Bamber—tested 43 herds, 77 animals, and found 40 reactors. 16 infected herds; inspected 43 flocks of 2,800 fowls.

Dr. H. A. Downey—tested 36 herds, 670 animals, and found 25 reactors. 10 infected herds; inspected 34 flocks of 2,435 fowls.

Dr. C. E. Lord, assisted by Dr. R. Finkle—tested 18 herds, or 470 head of cattle, and found 11 reactors. 9 infected herds; inspected 17 flocks of 1,215 fowls.

Dr. H. E. Mullen, assisted by K. A. Fish—tested 34 herds, or 456 animals, and found 16 reactors in 9 infected herds; inspected 15 flocks of 1,175 fowls.

Dr. R. Nelson—tested 39 herds, or 2 animals, and found 8 reactors in infected herds; inspected 39 flocks of 1,050 fowls.

SHIP'S CATTLE

Dr. R. Royer attended to shipment infected cattle to points for sale and also inspected dairy barns the county.

Dr. C. H. Boegman, of the livestock sanitary division, state department of agriculture, who is in charge of the countywide test, wished to correct a misunderstanding in the matter of indemnity. When he announced last week that no indemnity allowed on male animals, he did not refer to purchased bulls. These subjects to indemnity just as well as cows. No indemnity is allowed on male steers and bulls.

FIRST INSTITUTE FOR FARMS HELD
FORTY YEARS AGO

Many Important Changes
Have Taken Place Since
First Institute Was Held

Farmers' Institutes were 40 years old this winter. The first gathering of this nature was held at Hudson, St. Croix-co, on Nov. 24 and 25, 1885, and was similar in many respects to the institute which was held at Shiocton the second week in January.

The late C. E. Estabrook, who was then representing Manitowoc-co in the state legislature, conceived the idea when he listened to a short address by Hiram Smith before the farmers at Manitowoc. The following year Estabrook embodied his idea into the law that resulted in the first institute at Hudson.

Since the establishment of the institute, many changes have taken place. At that time the chief topic for discussion was grain farming vs. dairy farming. Following this came the idea of the pure bred bull, the need of silos, the advantages of cow testing associations and the necessity testing for tuberculosis. One of the hardest struggles was that of putting over the silo program.

In recent years much discussion has centered around lime, red clover, alfalfa, sweet clover, pastures and co-operative marketing. The latter subject will be discussed at the Greenville program.

Estabrook's idea has not only become an established institution in Wisconsin, but has spread to every state in the union and to Canada.

Wisconsin is again leading the way this year with the organization of the first co-operative marketing institute in America.

Binghampton Man Puts In 43 Years As Cheesemaker

BY W. F. WINSEY

Perhaps in years and continuous experience, Bernard Greise, the Binghampton cheese man, is the oldest cheese maker in Outagamie-co. As cheese making in this county is the leading industry, the honor to have been in the business from its infancy and to have the longest term of experience not a small one, but to be going strong and still to be turning out better cheese than ever makes it more remarkable.

A visit to his factory proves that Mr. Greise is active and vigorous, and a sample of his product convinces the trained taste that his years and experience have taught him the essentials and finer points of cheese making. As to the quality of his cheese, one enthusiast after testing a shipment lately wrote Mr. Greise: "It would be a great boon to the cheese industry if cheese of such quality were generally available."

As a public recognition of his ability as a cheese maker, Mr. Greise in a state contest of cheese makers in 1908 was awarded a diploma by the Wisconsin Cheese Makers association with a standing of 95.25 per cent. At the Wisconsin state fair in 1880 he won first premium over all other exhibitors in a sharp contest. But the greatest award of all that comes to Mr. Greise is the constant approbation of the consumers of his product.

MORE MILK

When asked if in all the years of his experience, the average butterfat content of milk and the flow of milk have been increased by the introduction of improved grades of cattle and the use of the modern balanced rations for dairy cattle, Mr. Greise replied that "the proportion of butterfat in milk had not been increased to any great extent but the improved breeding of cattle and the elimination of the scrub bull from the herd have materially increased the flow of milk."

Asked what in the past was the greatest obstacle to be overcome in the manufacture of first class cheese, and what is now the greatest obstacle, Mr. Greise replied to the former question: "Pin holes," and to the latter, "Acidity which comes from the use of overripe milk."

In reply to another question, Mr. Greise declared that "years ago 10 pounds of milk were required to make a pound of cheese while at the present time 10 1/2 pounds are used." When inquiry was made about the amount of milk he had handled in his long career in Outagamie-co, Mr. Greise replied, "If all the milk that he had dumped into his vats and all the whey that farmers had carted away from his factory could be restored and impounded by dikes and dams, the quantity would be sufficient and the force would be great enough to flood Outagamie-co."

WAS PRACTICAL

In comparing the ability and interest of the present-day cheesemaker in his work with those same qualities of the cheesemakers of two generations ago, Mr. Greise said that "the old-time cheese maker was a practical man who always had time and interest enough in his work to turn out the best possible product, but that the automobile has made a few present-day cheese makers hurry so much with their work that they often sacrifice the quality of their product to an early ride."

Mr. Greise's career as cheese maker began years ago in Plymouth, in a factory owned by S. H. Conover & Company. His later experience took him to Sheboygan Falls, St. Cloud, Furtin, Glor, Bradford, Maple Grove, town of Forrest, and Calumet Harbor. Thirty-five years ago he came to Binghampton where he worked one year for August Borman and the rest of those years for himself in the building he still occupies. This season he has taken in 1,212,415 pounds of milk for which he paid his patrons $1.97 for each hundred pounds.

Mr. Greise was born in Woonoski,

HARRISON STAR CHEESE FACTORY HAS GOOD YEAR

Produces 161,747 Pounds of Cheese Selling at a Total of $35,586

The Harrison Star Cheese factory, situated on Route 1, Menasha, finished the year 1925 with a total production of 161,747 pounds of cheese and total sales of $35,586.40 in cheese, according to the annual report of A. E. Korth, cheesemaker.

In order to produce this large amount of cheese a total of 1,677,738 pounds of milk, or more than 800 tons, was required. This made an average of 10.31 pounds of milk to produce one pound of cheese.

For the milk delivered at the cheese factory, the patrons received an average of $1.91 per 100 pounds. Their aggregate pay checks for the year amounted to $30,942.67. There also was paid to patrons $842.40 in butter, $264.88 in cheese and $999.93 in whey cream. With also $4,448.95 paid for making the cheese, and $84 paid for salaries, the factory ended the year with the small deficit of $1.67. In addition to the cheese sold, $1,993.86 in whey cream was sold for profit to the factory.

The average test of milk was 3.223 per cent, thus giving a total of 52,440 pounds of butterfat for the year. The average price for butterfat was 49.734 cents a pound, and the average price for cheese was 22 cents a pound.

Clintonville Man Finds Pleasure In Fox Farming

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville — Clintonville has a livestock industry in the little fox farm of Paul Malotky, Route 2, about 2 1/2 miles west of the city. He purchased his pair of silver black foxes in Dec. 1924. They were a year old last spring and are of the standard breed. Mr. Malotky raised four pups and now has three pair.

The foxes breed in February and March, bear 51 days and have from one to eight pups to a litter. The young can be weaned when about three to four months old and are full grown in nine months.

He says outlay for fencing and housing was about $40 and that it costs approximately $25 a year to feed a pair. The rations consist of bread, milk, cereals and meat scraps with fresh water every day. Cleanliness is essential to prevent disease and dishes used are washed after every meal, which is twice a day.

A good fox pelt is worth about $300 and Mr. Malotky anticipates good returns from the investment.

Millions in Jewelry to Grave

Atlanta—(AP)—The practice of burying jewelry with the body of a relative or friend is an expression of sentiment that morticians do not seek to discourage, explained Fred W. Patterson, president of the National Selected Morticians. While most of the jewelry buried with bodies is expensive, averaging about $10 a trinket in each case, Mr. Patterson estimated that the 2,000,000 Americans who die annually carry approximately $20,000,000 worth of jewelry to the grave with them.

Both the boys and their rescuer were brought to shore safely.

IRVING ZWILLER

Adventures Of The Twins

A LAUNDRY PARTY

Nancy rolled up her sleeves and began to wash poor Mister Havalook's clothes while Linder Legs who was a half a doll wide and a doll and a half long, looked on mournfully.

Even his long sharp red nose and his long sharp red chin had lost their perkiness.

"Aren't you going to starch them?" he asked.

"It depends," said Nancy. "I can't starch starch."

"And can't I get starched then?" asked Linder Legs. "That's what I came to Hidy Go Land for. When the little girl I belong to dropped me behind the hamper and no one could find me, I just said to myself, 'I'll go to Hidy Go Land and get starched.' I'm tired of not having any bones."

No sooner were the words out of his mouth than in came the Rag Doll.

"I heard what you said," she remarked. "And I wish to say that you are the same as all the rest of us. Everybody here comes for something special and nobody here gets a single thing he came for. I came for a new dress and look at me!"

Before anybody could answer in her behalf the Rag Doll said, "I came to get the stiffness rubbed out of my joints and here I am yet as stiff as a poker."

"If you and I could only change places," sighed Linder Legs. "I could only we could!"

"Could you ever try starching?" asked the Rag Doll. "I've heard that a good starching will take the stiffness out of things. Ask the Crimoline Doll. She was left out in the rain and her lovely hoop-skirts are as flat as your cakes."

"That's true," declared the Crimoline Doll walking in. "That's why I came to Hidy Go Land. To get my skirts starched again."

"It does seem," said Nancy, "that Hidy Go Land needs starch more than anything in the world. Can't anybody do starching? I can't learn unless someone shows me."

"Where's Mister Havalook?" asked Nick. "Perhaps he has some starch in his cupboard."

"Yes, where is Mister Havalook?" shouted everybody. "He's never around when he's wanted and what's more, he's of no use when he is here. Down with the king!"

At this the Twins remembered what the Fairy Queen had told them about the trouble in Hidy Go Land and that if things were better to a woman than he was to his poor, unfortunate. They didn't know exactly what a revolution was, but then that didn't matter. It must be something unpleasant from the way the Fairy Queen spoke, and it must be stopped at once.

"Is my washing finished yet?" asked Mister Havalook's voice at that very minute down the laundry stairs. "I can't find any starch," called Nancy.

"Here's a box of corn starch. Will that do?" asked Mister Havalook. "I suppose so," called Nancy. "Nick, you run and get it."

At that minute Black Diahah came waddling in, her arms akimbo and a handkerchief on her head, tied in two long ends that stuck up like rabbit ears.

"Who all's talkin' starchin'?" she remarked. "Heah Ah came to Hidy Go Land to get out o' workin', but Ah guess Ah can't. Ah'll starch dem close. Where's de starch and where's de bettin'?"

LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

My dear daughter:

There was a short paragraph in the London paper this morning to the effect that someone had been breaking into your house again. I am very much worried. I do wish that other man could be captured. I'm afraid something is going to happen. I would even be more comfortable if I thought he had the old people.

Poor Karl always gets nearly beside himself when anything is said about them, for he seems to feel that he is to blame for the whole thing—only your having the pearls, but Alice's death. I was awfully sorry he saw this paragraph in the paper, for he had been more like himself lately than I have known him since Alice's death. This news item however, has sent him back into melancholia again.

Up to date we have been having such a wonderful time. As you saw by this letter, we are back in England. We came back to stay for a couple of weeks at Betty Stokley's house party. You remember she was poor Alice's best friend, and both Alice and Karl stayed with her before they were married. She married one of the Carnovans, and annexed a wonderful country estate as well as a title. Karl and I have been staying with her for the last ten days, and she wants us to stay until the end of the month.

Betty's younger sister has grown up and is a lovely girl. She is now staying here.

Between us, my dear, I think the Stokleys and the Carnovans would like to make a match between Mary and Karl. Karl likes her very much. They have no other tastes in common. I do wish he would fall in love with her, for he has been so unfortunate in his heart affairs. I would like to have him have a good love before he dies.

Although I am sure you didn't mean it, my dear, you treated him rather cavalierly when you fell in love with Jack, and it very effectively spoiled Karl's life. I don't think he'll ever care for any other person as much as he did for you, and his love for you was more of an obsession than a passion. He married Alice, I am sure, only because he saw he could like her happy by doing so, and he thought he would like to be in our family.

But I cannot complain of Karl. I do wish he were married for, no man could have been better to a woman than he was to my poor, unfortunate younger daughter.

Betty told me the other night that Alice was always crazy about Karl, and she was always railing at Karl because she said you had treated him so badly.

Do you know, Leslie, I hope those hateful pearls have gone out of all our lives. I have tried not to be superstitious, but you must acknowledge that in the case of both you and Alice they have spoiled tears. How lovely I hope you will never find them! I would gladly think of you as losing the money, because I have found that money means very little in the making of real happiness.

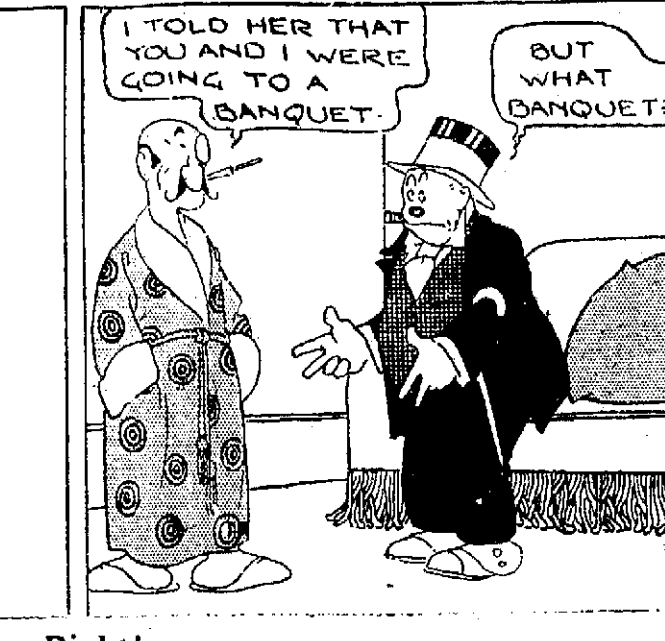

I got the boys' pictures. How much brother looks like you! He has the same awful expression you had when you were a little girl. Strange isn't it, that little Jack looks so much like John? You would almost think he was really his father. I hope he will never know he is not.

They have just sent for me to come down and have tea, so with a kiss to the boys and love to John and your self, I am

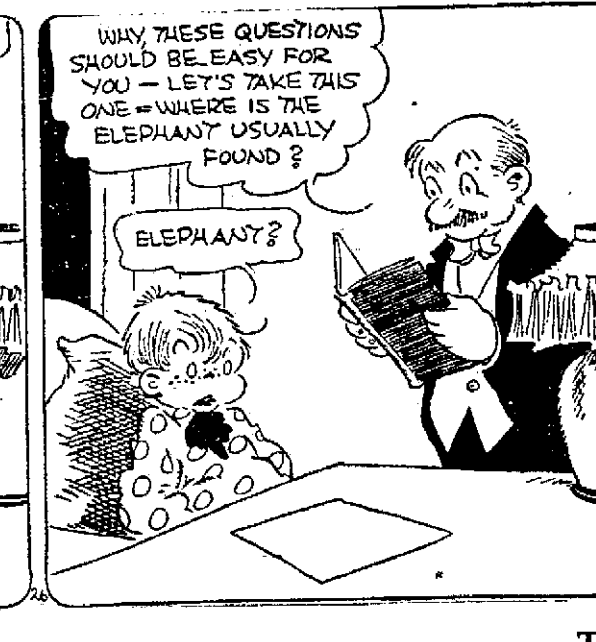

JUST MOTHER.

DENNY LOOKS FOR HARD GAME AT RIPON FRIDAY

VICTORY WILL RAISE CHANCE FOR TOP RUNG

Lawrence Cagers Working Overtime for Big Struggle With Rival

Two basketball squads representing their respective colleges in the Midwest conference are working overtime this week. Long, intensive hours of labor are they putting in, these teams of Lawrence and Ripon colleges, hours in which each hopes to advance its particular mode of play to a degree of perfection sufficient to defeat the other.

All this preparation do the coaches of the two institutions hope to have completed by Friday, for on that evening their teams will meet on the basketball court at Ripon in one of the bitter annual athletic contests between the two institutions. Needless to say, it is to make mention of the rivalry which exists between these schools. Suffice it to say that if the team from Appleton returns home with the scalp of the team from Ripon, one Coach A. C. Denny will breathe much easier than he is at present.

On this game, more than any other remaining on the 1926 schedule, does the future of the Blue cagers hang, according to Coach Denny. If they are successful in their clash with the Riponites, Coach Denny will view the prospects of winning another Midwest conference championship from a brighter angle. If they lose, all—the angle won't be so wide.

In order to merge on top of the front again this year, the Lawrenceans cannot lose a game, opines Coach Denny. He pointed out that his team is playing only seven conference games, while a number of other teams are playing more. Consequently one defeat will practically ruin the chances of the Blues for another hunting.

STRESSING DEFENSE

Particular stress is being laid on defense this week. Although the scoring power of his caging machine is above the ordinary, the defense is below power, in the opinion of Coach Denny. He calls to mind the game played so far this year, and shows that in most of these encounters the scores of opponents was above 20, which was not true last season.

Although Zussman, whose knee is finally healing in good shape, is working out every day, two others, Sund and Johnson, are suffering from severe colds. Only recently did Sund don his uniform again after having nursed a sprained wrist for several weeks. Zussman also has participated in only a few games and will require a little more time to work in with his teammates.

That the Lawrence quintet will have a task in hand Friday night is accepted without doubt. Ripon downed Deloit by almost the same score Lawrence did, indicating, at least on paper that the teams are of almost equal strength. The Ripon team also has four veterans as a nucleus for its present battle front, and is generally considered stronger than last year. With two guards, the center and a forward back, it certainly should be.

BLACK HAWK QUINTET WINS FROM TRIANGLES

The Black Hawk club caging team defeated the Sophomore Triangle squad by a 10-8 score in an overtime game at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday. The score at the end of the regular playing period was 8-8.

The Black Hawk players were unable to play smoothly during the first part of the game and trailed 3-7 at half time. Their defense tightened in the final two quarters, however, and they held their opponents to one free throw while they were getting two field goals and a free throw themselves.

Alfred Breithart starred for the winners with four field goals. Bob Roemer scored three goals for the Triangles. The game was the first in the inter-club contest.

Black Hawk—Koss, Moore, forwards; Peterson, center; Breithart, Reetz, guards.

Triangles—Weinberg, Roemer, forwards; Weiner, center; Roth, Steidl, guards.

OSHKOSH YOUTH WILL TRY OUT WITH GIANTS

Oshkosh — (AP) — Frederick "Pitt" Hakbarth, son of City Assessor and Mrs. John P. Hakbarth, will be given a chance to try out with the New York Giants. Manager McGraw has asked him to report for training at Sarasota, Fla., on Feb. 20, and he expects to accept.

McGraw, in a telegram to the father, said:

"The boy will be treated right."

Hakbarth, a graduate of the local high school has been attending Deloit college.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF CLUB IS POSTPONED

The fourth annual banquet of the Black Hawk club, which was to be held Wednesday, Jan. 20, has been postponed to Feb. 6. The final date was set at a meeting Monday evening. The club's basketball team will appear in its new uniforms for the first time Saturday in the game with the Avenue Newsies.

BADGER CAGING STARS

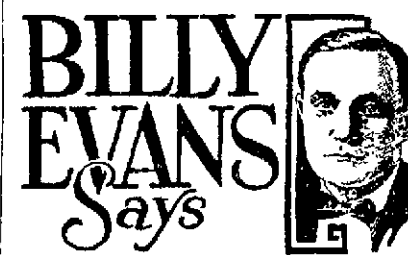

Barnum, Behr Big Factors On Badger Caging Squad

Madison—Two of the leaders among the gallant fight of the young Badger basketball quintet to date this winter are Barnum and Behr. Barnum, a husky guard, is playing the second year on the varsity squad and bids well to be another great Meanwell developed guard. It is generally conceded that Wisconsin is stressing a mighty offense this winter the effort being clearly shown by the work of Rollie. Barnum has consistently come down the floor to net the leather on long shots. His work in the last two wins of the Cardinals against Minnesota and Indiana has been one of the most consistent nature and wit, win high honors for the Badger junior should he continue to play the same brand of basket ball all winter.

Barnum is also a member of the Varsity football squad where he has won two "W"s and another as member of the base ball team last spring.

In Louis Behr, "Doc" Meanwell has a sophomore stripling who is rapidly forging to the fore and will ere his collegiate career has ended be one of the Big Ten's best. Hailing from Rockford, Ill., where he gained what high school knowledge was available, Louis has fit in only too well with the "Doc's" style of playing. In the opening conference game it was Behr who stood out as the real offensive ace, while his work on the defense was above par. His netting of eight consecutive free throws in the Minnesota game was a worthy feat alone. The great Badger win over Indiana was finally decided by a beautiful one handed offering from none other than Behr. Louis is but a sophomore and in two more years will fairly set the Big Ten on fire. He has power, dash, snap and precision, that cannot help but assure him full recognition from the critics.

OPPORTUNITY Opportunity is often the only thing needed for certain athletes to become stars.

Ability is of course the most important asset in any sport, but opportunity is a very close second.

Often baseball stars in the making sit on big league benches for years before getting a chance to show, simply because some sterling veteran whose work satisfies the manager, plays the same position.

Take the case of Freddy Lindstrom of the New York Giants. If Heine Groh hadn't injured his leg just prior to the 1925 world series, Lindstrom's rise to fame would have been delayed at least a year, probably longer.

In the emergency, Manager McGraw could call upon no one other than the 19-year old rookie. Lindstrom stepped into the breach and played such remarkable ball that the dependable Groh wasn't missed. Indeed his work featured the series in the field and at the bat.

Manager McGraw is now paying the penalty of Lindstrom's rise to fame. He's the first New York hold-out of 1926.

OVERLANDER'S CASE The past season in football furnished another shining example of what opportunity means.

The outstanding figure in college football was Suede Oberlander of Dartmouth. He was the big noise in the Green machine.

The thing that made Oberlander the most talked about man in the grid game was his marvelous forward passing. While proficient in all departments of play, Oberlander's greatest punch was his passing game.

For two seasons, 1923 and 1924, Oberlander of Dartmouth was a mighty good football player, but he didn't break into the headlines very often.

During those two seasons most of Dartmouth's forward passing was done by Mr. Edward Dooley. An injury, due to a fall while horseback riding, made it apparent that Dooley would be lost to Dartmouth for 1925.

Oberlander set about to take his place. A football was his constant companion last summer. It is said he spent one hour a day throwing forward passes. His phenomenal play of last fall was a tribute to the effort expended during the summer.

If Oberlander can impart his forward passing ability to the Ohio State players, where he is to coach next fall, look out for the Columbus eleven.

PROPER RECOGNITION Getting on the card at one of the big boxing shows in the east often makes a fighter who otherwise would have a hard time getting the proper recognition.

BOWLING With The CHAMP By Jimmy Smith

MAKING SPARES DON'T fail to get your spares. A missed spare here and there can raise havoc with your score. And not only that, it tends to shake your confidence, especially where your first ball kicks down nine of the pins. Get the remaining one on your second attempt.

In making spares on the right side of the alley, do not turn your hand at all. Simply slide the fingers to gether in gripping the ball and shoot cross alley at them.

Next to strikes, spares are the big things. Obviously one cannot throw strikes consistently. But he should be able to come through with a spare frequently, especially after he's out of the beginner's stage.

Practice shooting at a single pin, either the one on the seventh or eighth spot is the best to try your arm against. For it's usually either one or the other that stays up when you get nine on your first ball.

Go after the spares. Pick up a pin you can. And you'll soon find your score improving.

Tomorrow: Making Splits.

Friends Declare Two Tennis Stars Are Purposely Avoiding Each Other

Cannes, France. — (AP)—The social amities between Helen Willis and Suzanne Lenglen, France's star wielder of the racquet, are rigidly correct off the courts, say their friends and they are anything but intimate.

"I admire Helen in every way; she is such a sweet child," declared Suzanne when Helen arrived here to take part in the metropole tournament in which she won the championship Monday by defeating Mlle Vlasto 6-3 7-5.

Friends declare that they are studiously avoiding each other and withholding oral bouquets regarding the tennis each is capable of.

Suzanne is undecided as to whether she will meet Miss Willis in the singles at Nice, Feb. 1 or in the Charleston tournament Feb. 8. In the interim the California girl is expected to try to develop perfect form for her battle with the French flash.

NEW DANGER IN LONDON

London—A new traffic danger confronts this city. Women have adopted new hat styles which either act as "blindies" and make it nearly impossible to see approaching machines or they wear the new style hats so far over their ears they are unable to hear.

LAWRENCE PUGS ARE ROUNDING INTO CONDITION

Lawrence pugs limbered up Saturday afternoon in the first work out this season. Nine bouts were held in Alexander gymnasium, and while they did not count in the selection of the boxing team by Athletic Director Denny, they were hotly contested.

Twenty-two men signed up for try-outs. Four were unable to get going Saturday, but they will be with the mitt men in the near future—Sorenson, 128; Zussman, 146; Stair, 180; and Grove, 165. Ed Phillips, boxing instructor at the Y. M. C. A., will coach the ring men on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Summary of Saturday's bouts: Oleson, 122, outpointed Reinke, 115; Saulsbury 141 outpointed Kingsbury 143; Purves 1417 outpointed by Shemanski 146; Livingston 156 outpointed by Hammeley 153; Werner 154 and Weidenkauf draw; Ward outpointed Kneip, 127; Humphrey 162 outpointed Hunter, 159; Schroeder 165 outpointed by Aderhold, 153; Premeo outpointed Kleeman, 177.

You can hit P. A. and it won't hit back

YOU can hit it up with a jimmy-pipe and P. A. from the moment you finish breakfast till you crawl between the sheets at night . . . slow or fast . . . pipe-load upon pipe-load. It won't bite your tongue and it won't parch your throat.

Because—the Prince Albert process hit Bite and Parch a body-blow in the very first round. Millions of men who thought they never could pal with a pipe are now Prince Albert regulars. They've found the one tobacco that fits their taste neat and nifty.

You'll say so. Cool as the well-known cucumber. Mellow as moonlight on a limpid lake. Fragrant as spring blossoms. That's Prince Albert all over. When you get going with a jimmy-pipe and P. A., you can lick the world with one hand tied.

Just around the corner is a friendly shop where they hand out P. A. sunshine in tidy red tins. This is your cue to turn your tiller in that direction. Get yourself a supply of this grand old tobacco that has made so many men downright pipe-happy.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidor, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

"Somethings Bound To Turn Up"

That's what lots of people say. They believe that everything comes to him who waits-and all they must do to get some of the good things of life is to wait for them.

But where one does nothing but wait, something is bound not to turn up.

It is only when one regularly consults the Post-Crescent's A-B-C Classified Section that something is bound to turn up. And it will be something good, too!

This section is the receiving station for the opportunities broadcasted by the people of Appleton and vicinity. There is no limit to the number and variety of offers received by the classified columns day after day.

And all these opportunities are arranged in A-B-C order and listed under 1-2-3 classifications-so that something will turn up with hardly any effort on your part.

Acquire the habit of reading the A-B-C Ads regularly!

PROSPERITY ON TAP FOR MOST OF YEAR, LIONS TOLD

Prof. Mitchell of Lawrence College Tells Luncheon Club About Business Forecasting

Business conditions will remain good until near the end of 1926 following the present period of speculation and high stock prices, declared Waldo F. Mitchell, professor of business administration at Lawrence college, in a speech on business forecasting at the Lions club luncheon Monday afternoon at the Conway hotel. Interest rates will begin to decline in about 14 months, he predicted. The general trend of business has been up since the middle of 1924 the speaker said. The era of speculation-period of large business volume, and the period of high interest rates follow one another in the order named to form the business cycle.

Stock market and prices, stocks, commodities, prices, and financial data were named as the principal barometers in determining business conditions. All these factors act at different times and their effect is the essence of the business forecasting problem, said Professor Mitchell.

The most serious economic problem is business depression, declared the speaker, and will require international cooperation to be solved. This is one of the strongest arguments for the United States to be a party in a world court, league of nations, or any great international body.

Matters of banking and credit are the best indicators of why interest rates fluctuate. As interest rates increase or decrease the cost of doing business is greatly affected. If a business concern can analyze and forecast conditions by means of the various business barometers and statistical data, it can gauge its activities, he said.

It is impossible for any concern to fix a budget for the year without having some fairly accurate knowledge of what business conditions will be in its particular field. This can be done in several ways, one of which is to check up on the trend of its own sales through a period of years, tracing through several revolutions of the business cycle.

Prof. Mitchell advocated the formation of an agency in the city devoted to statistical research work for the purpose of supplying small business concerns with data on future business conditions. It is almost impossible for the smaller concerns to go to the expense of conducting an elaborate statistical research department, he said.

GOODLAND TO CONFER ON WISCONSIN-AVE SUBWAY

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., will go to Madison on Wednesday to confer with the state railroad commission on the proposed subway for the railroad crossing on E. Wisconsin-ave. A public hearing was conducted by the commission in Appleton several weeks ago on the plan of a subway at the tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern railway and the Kaukauna interurban line of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company. If the state authorizes the construction of the subway by the city with help from the railroad and traction companies, the city will pave Wisconsin-ave, and state highway 15 will undoubtedly be routed over that street from N. INCOME BLANKS GO INTO MAILS

Successor Establishes "Office Hours" for Assisting Puzzled Taxpayers

Income tax blanks for residents of Outagamie-co were placed in the mails Monday afternoon by Leo G. Toonen, assessor of incomes for Outagamie and Waupaca-cos. Plans are being made at Mr. Toonen's office in the courthouse to aid taxpayers in the preparation of their blanks, but due to the push of other business "office hours" have been established. Mr. Toonen and his assistants will help taxpayers from 10 to 12 o'clock each morning and from 2 to 4 o'clock each afternoon. The office will be open at the usual hours during the day, but outside of these periods the occupants will devote themselves to other business. Income tax offices in every other county of the state have ceased helping taxpayers in any way with their blanks except to give advice, but Mr. Toonen and his assistants will continue to assist puzzled taxpayers.

Taxpayers are asked to fill in as much of the blanks as possible before taking them to the office for help as this will save time for the assessors.

ville, who featured in a tenor duet in last year's Tormentors production, will carry the tenor solos.

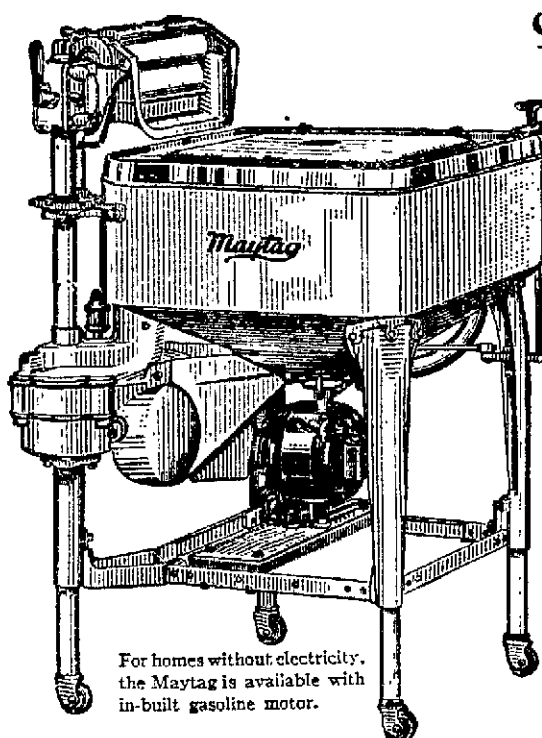

EARS GET COLD OBEYING DICTUM OF DAME FASHION

Winter weather is just as cold in 1926 as it was 15 or 20 years ago but men's ears are colder than they were at that time, for the majority of them must have brave the icy blasts and subzero weather without the protection of the old fashioned ear muffs. Although the velvet ear pads were a great source of comfort when the mercury slid down below zero, Dame Fashion put her stamp of disapproval on them, and they have been less popular every year.

Appleton clothing merchants report that there is still some sale of ear pads to old timers who prefer comfort to style. Even some of the older men have obeyed fashions ultimatum, however, and now walk to and from work on cold days, rubbing their ears. And if a young well dressed "sheik" should ever be seen wearing ear muffs—well folks would think he was employed somewhere as a radio operator and forgot to remove his head phones.

Early Springtime Silks and Woolens

Our counters are piled with the loveliest of new silks and woolens for late winter and early spring wear. Here are the smartest of the printed trepes and the soft, jewel-tone wool fabrics that are being sold in the up-to-the-minute shops in New York.

Printed Flat Crepes — $3.50 Yard

These bright, new, printed flat crepes show the gayest patterns and colorings. There are combinations of blue, rose, white and black, blue and buff, green and tan, and dozens of others. They are 39 inches wide and the quality is firm but very soft. $3.50 a yard.

Printed Crepe de Chine — $2.25 Yard

Printed crepe de chine will be the chosen silk for many a chic spring frock. It is 39 inches wide. There are smaller and more conservative designs and darker colorings here. A silk suitable for every occasion can be chosen from this group at a price that is very moderate. $2.25 a yard.

54-Inch Cameline — $4. Yard

For the little sports or business frock, select the new 54-inch cameline. It is a smooth, lightweight, firmly woven fabric just meant for the modes of this spring. It cannot shrink for it has been thoroughly steam sponged. All the jewel tones are shown—those soft shades that are so becoming. 54 inches wide and $4 a yard.

Arosa Cloth — $4.50 and $5. Yard

Arosa cloth, which was a favorite of last spring, is more fashionable than ever. There are new shades lovelier even than those first offered. Bayberry (a delicate gray), Sistine blue, Albeno green, rose, and rosewood are in the highest favor. Invisible stripes show a charming contrast of weaves. Stream shrunk and 56 inches wide. $4.50 and $5 a yard.
